S.E.T. Infused Liquid Vitamins

October 2005, Lyle Loughry

An estimated 155,000 Americans take vitamin supplements, not really knowing what they're made of, or where they came from. Truth be known, whatever may be claimed for them, they're either vitamin molecules that have been separated from their natural complex and well organized environments found in whole foods, and known in the industry as "USP" or "BP" isolated form nutrients, or they're CHEMICALS. It's just that simple.

If they're CHEMICALS, big drug companies create them in a laboratory, and sell them to vitamin companies who bottle and label them, and market them to unsuspecting buyers who think they're doing something really good for their body. If our bodies were synthetic, then synthetic, chemical vitamins might be good enough. Right now, all they do is fool the body, and add nothing, but more chemicals. We don't think it's nice to deceive the body like that, nor is it healthy.

There is now overwhelming evidence that long-term use of either the "isolate" form of vitamin, or the man-made, chemical vitamins, can be disastrous. Studies conducted in the 1930's by Dr. Royal Lee, founder of the Standard Process Company, comparing the molecular structure of natural and synthetic, chemical vitamins, revealed their polarity to be just the opposite. Both may have the same molecular structure, but they will have dramatically different effects on the body.

The Agnes Faye Morgan experiments at the University of California, Berkeley in the 1940's established that, "Taking synthetic vitamins can be worse than starvation, and could kill you quicker." A Finnish study published in the prestigious New England Journal of Medicine in the Spring of 1994, concluded that "taking synthetic vitamins resulted in a statistically significant loss of protection from lung cancer, stroke, and all other forms of death".

According to Dr. Paul Yanik, Jr., Ph.D., a world-renowned expert in Bio-energetic Medicine, " Any attempt to separate the vitamin from its natural, synergistic food factors and enzymes will destroy its natural and intended function, and the resulting product cannot , repeat, cannot have a positive, physiologic, or health-building effect. Any results claimed to have been achieved by so-doing will have been strictly pharmacological and stimulatory, not nutritional, and will actually serve to reduce the quality and length of human life."

To summarize, nutrients found in food are recognized by the body as food, and are used by the body for nourishment and building health. Chemicals introduced into the body are not recognized by the body as food, not utilized, and in some instances may be toxic. Vitamins and minerals must be consumed in true food form to experience anything close to optimal efficiency and effectiveness.

OR-ION ionic, liquid vitamins are 100% plant-derived, "liberated" vitamins, and contain naturally-occurring enzymes, and amino acids. This is especially important for the "B" complex vitamins found in this formula. Plant-derived vitamins are much more stable, and molecularly sound, especially in liquid form, the only form that delivers immediate cell absorption. Each vitamin component in OR-ION Liquid Vitamins must be completely compatible with each other, in stability, and in their natural interaction. This is of the utmost importance, because when these vitamins are placed in liquid form, both the naturally-occurring enzymes and amino acids must be held in place, so as not to be stimulated into performing their natural functions, prematurely.

This is accomplished by adding just the proper amount of minerals, in the proper form ... Fulvic acid, nature's most precious and best-kept secret ... and finally, the breakthrough, Subtle Energy Technology. With this proprietary technology, energy is released in the form of photons, which means this energy goes on forever. The minerals required to activate the OR-ION formula provide the appropriate balance and the greatest potency, and come from ancient beds. They include high concentrations of Fulvic acid, the most powerful electrolyte known. The result is an amazing, totally effective food supplement that enables both the vitamins and the small amount of minerals to be immediately absorbed into the cell wall, without ever having to go through the endocrine system. The mitochondria is nourished and hydrated at the same time. This absolute physiologic miracle takes place right in your mouth. This probably won't happen with your vitamin product.

OR-ION Liquid Vitamins contain naturally-occurring, plant-source Vitamin B-12 rather than B-12 derived from cows and pigs. Some vitamin manufacturers cultivate their "B" vitamins from yeast, but the polysaccharides found in yeast-produced vitamins may actually contribute to some yeast infections, including candida. We refuse to take those chances with our customers. The all-natural, B-Complex vitamins in the OR-ION formulation come from pristine sources in either North America or the South Pacific, and they are far more costly.

Plants produce a form of polysaccharides that are the most beneficial and most efficient for cellular absorption, but they are often lost in the extraction process. In OR-ION crystalline fructose is utilized to replace the lost polysaccharides, assuring the product's integrity.

Remember, if your present supplements are not "speaking" the cellular language, they are simply waste material, and you're throwing good money down the drain. You really don't want that, do you? This super-charged, naturally-occurring extract from "ancient" plant life is also a natural antioxidant, as well as a superior detoxification supplement. All of this makes it the perfect daily vitamin supplement. If you need and want to enjoy the finest vitamin supplement available (bar none), choose OR-ION 'Liberated' Liquid Vitamins.
